AT a Court of Directors of the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the Eaſt Indies, held the 19th of February, 1796,

The following DECLARATION, on the Part of the Court, was agreed to and ſigned, viz.

UPON the great and important Queſtion relative to the Shipping Concerns of the Company, ſubmitted to the General Court on Wedneſday the 17th Inſtant, the Court of Directors think it their indiſpenſible Duty to declare, that all Papers neceſſary for determining the Queſtion propoſed to the General Court were annexed to their Reports, circulated to the Proprietors a Week before, and that all other Papers relative to Shipping were ready to be produced to the General Court; that the Papers referred to, in the Queſtion to be ballotted for, are Papers merely of ordinary Detail of Proceedings, and do not furniſh any new Ground of Information for the Deciſion of the Queſtion ſo highly important to the Intereſt of the Proprietors, the Company and the Public, which Papers, nevertheleſs, have been for ſome Time paſt preparing, and will all be printed by Tueſday next; and moreover, that, by the Adoption of the Amendment by the General Court, the Whole of the main Queſtion for confirming the Reports of the Court of Directors is, for the preſent at leaſt, done away: The Court of Directors therefore truſt and hope, that the Proprietors will ſupport the Executive Body, by voting againſt the Queſtion now to be ballotted for, in order that there may be no further Delay in coming to a decided Opinion whether the Syſtem brought forward in the ſaid Reports is or is not fitting to be carried into immediate Execution.
